Profile

Full stack web developer with more than 5 years of experience in the IT field, have deep understating of the IT industry, knowledge of both server and client sides. Developed dozens of systems for GTA 5 RP project, based on web programming. I have work experience both in the team and by myself. I have organized my and the work of the staff for the last four years with great success. Provided solutions to the project issues with the best benefit for each side. Always ask myself, what improvements can I make both for the project and for me personally, what can I do better and how. Out of work, I am very curios open-minded person, interested in all of the aspects of life. Passionate about building high-quality world-class web applications.
Achievements

In the university, had a 7.0 average score on subjects, allowing me to go to Erasmus Exchange. Finished a B2 English test with the highest score from my group - 92.
Been handling a community of more than 2000 active players each day almost singlehandedly for several years, contributing to the company's growth.
Worked on the GTA 5 RP development library with the worst documentation and little amount of information available. Managed to build a performing, alpha version of the project.
